524 Killed In U. S. During Labor Day Holiday Weekend

By The Associated Press
More than 500 persons lost their lives in accidents over the Labor Day holiday but the toll was far below the record of 658 violent deaths a year ago. The death toll for the holiday, the last long week end of the summer season, was 524.

Two Injured In City Traffic

Police Arrest Two Following Mishaps

Two persons were injured and two arrested in one of the four traffic mishaps which occurred in the city over the weekend.

A car operated by Steve S. Sullivan, 21, of New Brighton, Pa. struck the rear of a car driven by George F. Nichols of Cleveland at 3:40 a.m. today on S. Lincoln Ave., at the intersection of S. Lincoln Ave. and Franklin Ave.

Sullivan sustained a laceration of the scalp and eye and was treated at the Central Clinic. A passenger in the car, Alexander Mulig, 21, of New Brighton, Pa., owner of the vehicle, also sustained injuries and was admitted to the hospital where his condition is reported fairly good today.

Sullivan was cited by police for drunken driving and operating a vehicle without a driver's license, and Mulig was arrested for permitting an unlicensed operator to drive his car. Sullivan was fined a total of $150 by Mayor Harry M. Vincent today. Mulig's hearing has been postponed pending his release from the hospital.

Raymond Lee of Chicago, Ill. reported to police that his truck struck a limb of a tree in front of 1574 E. State St. at 1:30 p.m. Sunday. Some damage was caused to the truck.

Cars operated by Wayne R. Jackson of 795 Summit St. and Jean Lou Reed of RD 1, Leetonia sideswiped at 7:15 a.m. today on S. Union Ave., causing some damage to each vehicle.

Merilee M. Stout of RD 1, Beaver Falls, Pa. told police that at 4:18 p.m. Monday, as she was stopped in a line of traffic on E. State St. at Lincoln Ave., her car was struck by an east bound truck operated by Robert I. Stewart of Youngstown.

Accidents on the highways, as usual, took the heaviest toll, with 403 killed in traffic mishaps. Fifty-two persons drowned and 69 others lost their lives in miscellaneous accidents.

The traffic total compared to last year's record 461 deaths. It was below the 480 deaths estimated for the three-day holiday by the National Safety Council.

However, Council President Ned H. Dearborn said it was "a shocking thing to think that the (traffic) figure could rise to over 400 on a day dedicated to rest and relaxation. . . . The people of America should wake up to this inexcusable slaughter."

Rainy weather over wide areas of the east and Midwest was considered a possible factor in cutting down the traffic toll, keeping many persons at home. However, the wet highways made driving conditions more hazardous for the millions who made trips.

The accident toll covered the period from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Monday (local time). The safety council reported that thus far in 1952 there have been 94 traffic deaths every 24 hours. This includes deaths occurring from injuries days, weeks or months after the accidents.

Cordell Hull Remains On Critical List

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cordell Hull remained on the critical list today at the Bethesda (Md.) Naval Hospital. Officials said he spent a good night and that his condition was listed as unchanged.

The 80-year-old former secretary of state entered the hospital in the Washington suburbs Friday for treatment for cerebral thrombosis.

There was a false alarm yesterday that Hull had died. President Truman received a report, presumably from the White House, that the elder statesman who served in President Roosevelt's Cabinet for three terms had died. The President, travelling on a campaign train enroute to Milwaukee, got out a statement in Chicago saying, "The people of the United States join with me in mourning the passing of one of this country's greatest statesmen, Cordell Hull."

Not long afterwards, however, it developed that the report of Hull's death had been in error. The President put out a second statement at Milwaukee in which he said: "I am most pleased to learn that I was falsely informed that Cordell Hull had passed away."

Motorist Picks Wrong Car To Smash Into

When a Pittsburgh motorist's car hit the rear of a car stopped for a school bus at 9:30 this morning, he didn't have to notify police. The auto he hit belonged to Roy Painter, constable of Hanover Township, who was traveling east on Route 30.

Michael Pails was fined $15 and costs by Clyde Knestrick, Hanover justice of the peace. Damage to the constable's car was estimated at $85 and to the Pails vehicle about $250.

Ike Calls Administration "Corrupt, Scandalous"

Truman Charges Ike Is "Captive Candidate"

Taft-Hartley Repeal Favored By Stevenson

Candidate Says He Is Pleased By Tour Of Michigan

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson said today he is "very well satisfied" with the results of his sweep through the industrial centers of Michigan and the reactions to his stated position on the whole field of labor-management legislation.

Back in his office today, Stevenson started work on his next major effort—a statement of policy on a farm program.

He leaves Friday for Denver, then goes to the National Plowing Contest at Kasson, Minn., where he is expected to speak as fully on agriculture as he did yesterday on labor.

Laid Ground Work

The Democratic candidate for president has now laid the groundwork of his position on at least four of the big issues in the present campaign. He has spoken out, at length, on foreign policy, civil rights legislation, Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin and labor-management relations.

He has brushed such questions as social security and what he claims were the comparative records of the Republicans and Democrats.

He has not yet placed himself on record—except that he strongly supports the Democratic platform—on agriculture, nor on government spending.

Finally, if he considers the Republican accusations of corruption in government an issue, he has not yet answered it.

In Michigan yesterday, he talked mainly about labor and about foreign policy. He delivered four speeches in a single day. He had a fifth in his briefcase, and he started to deliver it at Pontiac, when a swishing summer rainstorm drove him and his audience to cover.

The high point came in Cadillac Square, in Detroit, where he denounced the Taft-Hartley Act as "biased and politically inspired" and said it should be written off the books.

Elusive Monkey, Loose 5 Days, Finally Caught

Ground fire (air rifles) finally caused the Letkus family's spider monkey to give up its harried five days of freedom at noon Labor Day on Columbia St.

The monkey swung from tree limbs and telephone wires in the Franklin St. vicinity to elude its captors who have been trying to catch it since it escaped Wednesday afternoon from the Letkus residence on Maple St.

At first bananas and cantaloupes were used as bait to apprehend the simian, who refused to give up his freedom. Doped morsels of food were placed before it but it failed to be duped.

As a last resort, air rifles were used to scare him out of a tree on S. Broadway. When things became too hot, the monkey swung to the ground and found refuge on a Columbia St. porch where it was captured.

The monkey put on one of the best shows seen in the Franklin St. vicinity for some time. A large crowd was on hand to view its capture.

A group of N. Ellsworth children conducted a bake sale in Williams Appliance Store Saturday, netting $80 toward the fund.

The Salem Business and Professional Women's Club is sponsoring a tag sale next Saturday with money collected going to the swimming pool fund. Volunteers will be picked from Junior High School and will be taken to a show in the State Theatre next week as a reward for their efforts.

Mrs. Gwen Bryant is chairman of the tag sale.

Children taking part in the bake sale at Williams Appliance were: Shirley Capel, Meredith Purviance, Janet Barton.

President Says GOP Command Risks Atom War

Liberation Talk May Set Off Shooting, Truman Declares

ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN (AP)—President Truman openly accused the Eisenhower command today of increasing the risk of atomic war by "talking loosely about liberating the enslaved peoples of Eastern Europe."

He declared John Foster Dulles and other "master-minds" of the Eisenhower campaign are playing "cruel, gutter politics with the lives of countless good men and women behind the Iron Curtain."

Not Mentioned By Name

Truman didn't mention Dulles by name in his foreign policy talk to a railroad station crowd at Parkersburg, W. Va., identifying him only as a Republican "who helped in the formulation of our foreign policy."

Truman then said: "He knows what a precarious situation the world is in. He knows how easy it would be to start a war. But he is perfectly willing to have the Republican Party, and the Republican candidate, say things that increase the risk of war, simply in order to get votes."

Dulles recently came out of a conference with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the GOP nominee, about the future liberation of peoples behind the Iron Curtain and the candidate himself voiced his aspirations in an American Legion speech.

The President gave every outward indication he is satisfied with Adlai Stevenson's campaign as he stepped up his whistle stop stumping for the Democratic nominee.

And his disclosure of a joint strategy for speechmaking supported claims of his aides that there has been full consultation and co-ordination between the President and nominee on what they will say.

Truman demonstrated his ability to stir up campaign crowds again last night at Milwaukee when he was interrupted 46 times at a labor rally where he described Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as the "lonely, captive candidate" of Republican "special interests" trying to "hide behind a new face."

Calls Of Defeat Of McCarthy

He called for the defeat of Republican Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy and replied to GOP demands for a change at Washington by saying: "It is time for a change from the big lie — from the brazen Republican efforts to falsify history, to smear and ruin innocent individuals, to trample the basic liberties of American people."

Stopping for 55 minutes this morning in Cincinnati, home town of Sen. Taft, the President praised the Republican leader as being "intellectually honest — that is more than you can say for other Republicans."

The Republican Party, he told a small, hand-picked audience in a rear-platform speech, "must run on Taft's record."

He again expressed regret at Taft's being passed over for the Republican nomination in favor of Eisenhower, asserting that, with Taft, the Republicans "at least know what they're getting."

Calls Nomination A "Disguise"

Mr. Truman said Eisenhower's nomination was a "disguise" which would not deceive the American people.

Police estimated that about 300 persons were able to jam into the limited area afforded by the train shed to hear the President. It began raining shortly before the presidential train pulled out at 9:05 a. m., EST, for West Virginia, where Truman is to give five back-platform speeches.

Secret Servicemen had ruled out a proposed appearance of the President.

Air Base Hit By Windstorm; Damage High

FT. WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Carswell Air Force Base was a shambles today after a windstorm last night took a multimillion-dollar swipe at America's long-range aerial striking power.

One three-million-dollar B36 bomber was destroyed, six others received major damage and several others were damaged to an undetermined extent. Two airmen were slightly injured.

A civilian, Mrs. W. C. Connor, 44, was killed when her automobile was struck by a sign board blown down by the storm. Ten other civilians in the vicinity were reported hurt.

Capt. Burton Wilder, base public information officer, said several buildings suffered "severe damage" when the winds struck shortly before dark.

Maj. Gen. Samuel E. Anderson, commanding general of the Eighth Air Force, estimated damage to planes at the base at 25 per cent.

The B36, which has been called America's "atom bomb carrier," is the Air force's largest, longest-ranging bomber in service and was designed to carry 10,000 pounds of bombs on a 10,000-mile mission.

Also damaged was the 90-mile-per-hour winds struck the vicinity was the plant of Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp., which manufactures the huge six-engine intercontinental B36s.

Aircraft plant officials said power was disrupted and extensive damage done to service docks at which the big planes are serviced.

Wind blew the tail from one of the giant bombers and left it shattered in a ditch. Others were strewn about the ramps and taxiways of the base.

Milk Prices Raised By Local Dairies

Local dairies increased the price of milk a cent a quart Monday as a result of wholesale boosts in prices granted farmers.

Plain milk now retails for 22 cents a quart, while chocolate and homogenized milk have been upped to 23 cents a quart. The price of coffee cream has been increased two cents per half-pint.

The retail price of milk was also boosted in the East Liverpool area Monday. Plain and homogenized milk in that district now retails for 23 and 24 cents a quart, respectively.

Recent increases in milk prices in the Youngstown area have amounted to approximately ten percent.

Man Killed By Blow To Chest During Fight

MARION, O. (AP)—Joseph Galyk, 34, died Monday of a blow on the chest suffered in a fight with two other men, police reported.

Police said they were holding Avery Adkins, 20, without charge, pending investigation of the altercation.

Luther Gleason, third man involved in the fight, police said, is in the hospital for treatment of cuts about the neck.

Galyk was pronounced dead upon arrival at Marion Hospital.

General Opens Heavy Artillery Against Truman

GOP Nominee Begins Flying Drive For Southern Votes

By The Associated Press
ATLANTA (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today called the Democratic administration a mess of corruption and scandal and demanded "a wholesale clean-out of the political bosses in Washington."

The Republican presidential nominee cut loose at the Truman regime in earnest for the first time in an address prepared to open a flying Southern campaign tour.

"A 'refreshing' is not what we need," said Eisenhower. "A face-lifting job won't do it either," he added. "What the Washington mess must have is the full treatment."

Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for their jobs, too big for their breeches and too long in power."

Clean-Out Needed
He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-agency mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess — it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang our heads in shame."

The tone of the speech fulfilled advance word from his regional campaign headquarters in New York that he would "pull no punches" on his Dixie trip.

Some of his warmest admirers had complained that Eisenhower's campaigning was too soft. The general's aides said, however, that he had planned deliberately not to fire his ammunition too soon.

Eisenhower named no names in his prepared text.

Caused Higher Taxes

He said the cost of the "Washington mess" was being taken out of every American through higher taxes, higher prices and by "cutting down the value of every dollar you have put away for the future."

"You pay for the incompetence, stupidity and corruption on the part of those who have been caught and those who have not been caught," Eisenhower said.

He said newspapers reported that "we are getting two airfields in North Africa for the price of five" and that the papers carried countless other items concerning waste.

The general asserted: "If you are as sick and tired of all this as I am; if you are as tired as I am of picking up your newspaper every morning and reading about a fresh government scandal, then let's get together and restore decency and honesty and

2nd Hurricane Seen In Atlantic

Offers No Immediate Threat To Any Land

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A growing tropical hurricane, with winds up to 90 miles per hour, whirled up in the Atlantic today about 400 miles northeast of Puerto Rico.

The hurricane, second of the season, offered no immediate threat to any land area and was about 1,300 miles east-southeast of the Florida Coast.

It developed rapidly yesterday and by nightfall had grown into a full-fledged hurricane. Its position was about 200 miles southeast of where the first hurricane was spawned just a week earlier.

The Miami Weather Bureau said winds were about 90 miles per hour and "further increase is expected."

Meanwhile, the first hurricane which battered the South Carolina Coast Saturday night before lashing North Carolina and Virginia with heavy rains, brought a flash flood to Ellicott City, Md., on the outskirts of Baltimore.

More than four inches of rain turned Tiber Creek into a river that swept through stores and smashed automobiles, causing an estimated $50,000 damage to the town. Heavy rains fell in Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylvania as the dying storm scurried northward.

A freak tornado, by-product of the hurricane, unroofed houses and caused minor damage in the Virginia area bordering Washington.

Constitution Party Loses 2 Officers

CHAPLIN, Conn. (AP) — The newly formed Constitution party has lost two top-level officers because, they said, some of its members made statements which sounded anti-Semitic.

Mrs. Suzanne Silvercrucis Stevenson, chairman, announced her resignation and that of Co-Chairman Percy L. Greaves Jr. of Chevy Chase, Md., at her home here yesterday.

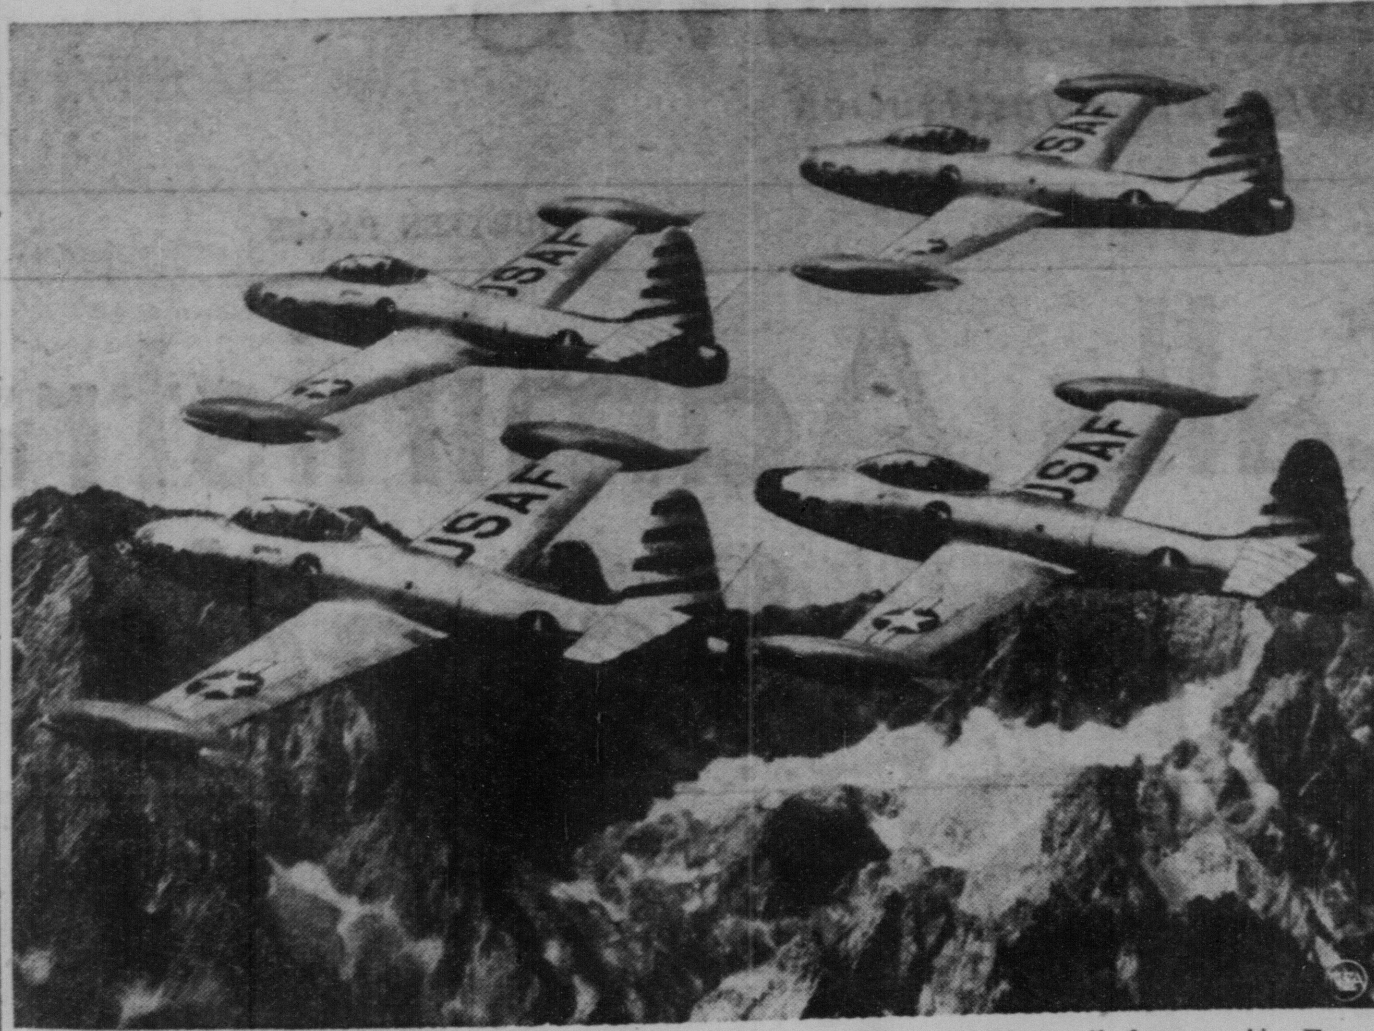

A spokesman had said the party sought to persuade members of the Electoral College to vote for Gen. Douglas MacArthur for president.

Asked if she objected to the MacArthur movement, she said she considered it "idealistic" and "not feasible."

She said some of the members of the party objected to her because she was a Catholic and foreign born.

"The principles of the party as rewritten by an unauthorized meeting of a few of the National Committee in Philadelphia last week contain the phrase, 'We must preserve our Christian heritage which has been the strength of this union.'"

"Such a declaration," she said, "sounds to me like anti-Semitism. I will have no part of any movement which seems to me to be so steeped in bigotry."

Lie Says Korean Truce Based On Present Lines Acceptable

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — A. Gross, deputy U. S. delegate to the U. N., predicted that the Korean conflict and truce negotiations would be one of the topics for discussion at the General Assembly meeting.

In his annual report to the U. N. General Assembly, which convenes here Oct. 14, Lie said repeated disappointments in the Korean truce negotiations had "given rise to impatience, resentment and doubt." Most of these reactions would disappear, he added, if the truce talks were successful.

"If an armistice should be concluded in Korea on the basis of approximately the present battle-line," the 182-page report said, "available evidence indicates that public opinion in the great majority of member states would welcome it with enthusiasm and much of the present anxiety and disillusionment would disappear."

Meanwhile, Ambassador Ernest

Lie's report said the U. N. was almost universally regarded as the main hope for peace in the long run. But there is a general tendency, he added, "to believe that the United Nations cannot be considered as the sole or even the main, instrument for the preservation of peace at present."

U. N. Repulses 3 Red Thrusts

Navy Planes Hit Near Manchuria

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — U. N. infantrymen repulsed three light Chinese thrusts against Allied defenses in the Old Baldy and Bunker-Siberia Hill sectors today on the Korean Western Front.

Chinese soldiers showed continuing interest in the battle-scarred terrain won in recent weeks by U. S. troops in especially bitter fighting.

Clouds cut Allied airraids over North Korea after the U. S. Navy's spectacular strikes yesterday near the Manchurian and Siberian borders in which carrier planes blasted the Aoji refinery, Musan iron works and the big northeast port city of Chongjin.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said thick clouds, which lifted yesterday, closed in this morning over most North Korean targets. But fighter-bombers cut through the mist and hit Red supply areas behind the Western Front.

Twenty-two B26 bombers last night smashed the East Coast city of Sinchang and bomber crews reported 22 secondary explosions set off by their bomb loads.

Along the 155-mile battlefield there were brief but sharp patrol clashes.

The largest Chinese probe this morning was by a platoon — about 40 men — feeling out defenses of Old Baldy Hill, lying west of Chorwon. It was driven off in a flurry of gunfire.

"Ken-lookie" Hauled Back From Sea Trip

MARSEILLE, France (AP) — The gold raft Ken-lookie, dreamboat of an adventurous young American, finally bobbed out to sea yesterday on its metal drums filled with 75,000 ping-pong balls, but unsympathetic Coast Guards yanked it back.

Martime officials had condemned the raft as unseaworthy and a menace to navigation. They said Richard Miller, 27, of Chicago, Ill., and his four companions would have to give up their plan of floating across the Mediterranean on the flimsy craft.

The five defied the order yesterday and shipped out of harbor.

With Miller on the strange contraption were Michael Jones, a former British Royal Air Force pilot; Rene Lariviere, a young Frenchman, and a girl and a fourth man whose names were not revealed.

Police Are Puzzled By Strange Death

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The strange death of Arthur Moore, 50, of Columbus, remained a mystery today to Columbus police.

Moore's body was found in a rooming house Monday by his landlord, Otto Ford, when he and Mrs. Ford returned from a weekend trip to Niagara Falls.

Police said a necktie was wrapped around Moore's neck and tied to a bed rail. His feet were tied together and his hands bound behind his back.

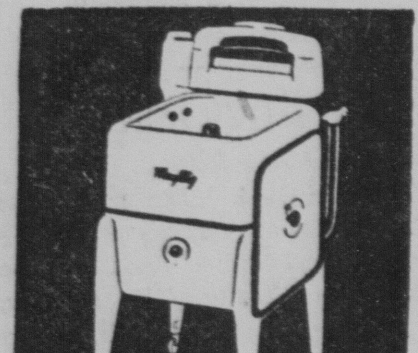

Dr. Carl E. Tetrick, coroner's assistant, ordered an autopsy. He said he thought Moore was strangled.

Sgt. William E. Donner, homicide chief, said there was no evidence of a struggle and Moore apparently had not been robbed.

A letter found in Moore's room was addressed to his wife, Mable, Route 2, Nelsonville. It indicated Moore planned to visit her over the weekend.

The Fords said Moore rented a room from them about four months ago. He had been employed by a Columbus potato chip firm but recently lost his job, they said.

Still A Good Story

The customer waiting for his car to come off the grease rack at the filling station explained that it had to be serviced while he waited because his job kept him busy 10
hours a day, six days a week.

"It really adds up," he declared, spilling off a few multiple-digit figures on his earning power at straight time, time and a half and double time for the seventh consecutive day.
"That's the one that rings the bell," he said proudly, "that double-time day. You wouldn't believe it if I told you how much I made that day!" Being a taxpayer, on salary, we believed him.

Then we remembered a story that kept bobbing up during World War II—about the woman on the bus who turned around quietly
and told the war workers hoping their fat pay days would go on forever that her son had been killed on the Anzio beachhead. Haven't heard that story for awhile, but it's still good.
Only the names and dates change. "Americans being killed and wounded in Korea and being drafted at coolie wages for military service
are a fantastic price to pay" for big wages
in a war boom.

It's no time to gloat.

On To Kasson!

Next to being on the speaker's platform at Kasson, Minn., next Sept. 6 when Gen. Eisenhower and Gov. Stevenson will speak, though at different times, most of us can think of nothing better than to hear the two candidates discuss the issues face to face on television.

Here's a wonderful new instrument of political education. It's potential usefulness is being blocked at the outset, however, by misgivings and technicalities.

The misgivings have to do with skill in the tricky art of speaking off the cuff. The technicalities have to do with certain regulations
laid down by the Federal Communications Commission. It is feared these might be interpreted to mean that a televised debate between the two men competing for the presidency might force the broadcasting companies to give equal time to one or more of the splinter parties tagging along in the campaign.

Between now and election day, Gen. Eisenhower and Gov. Stevenson will travel thousands of miles and talk themselves hoarse in the inevitable effort to effect a maximum impact on public opinion. Their speaking campaigns started with their addresses to the American Legion convention in New York City.
The Plowing Congress next Saturday at Kas-
son will provide a ready-made audience too.

The ready-made audience for political debates of the future will be in millions of American homes with radio and television sets. Voters want to know what the men who seek to live in the people's White House would say to each other about the issues—not what they would say to audiences that can't reply.

Political Emancipation

It all began when Dwight D. Eisenhower said he aspired to be president of all the people and do nothing which wouldn't be good for all of them.

That was an unorthodox point of view in an era of pressure-bloc politics. It was a direct rebuke to a school of politicians whose mastery of minorities has been approached only in bread-and-circus days of dying Rome.

But on the affirmative side, it was an appeal for the respect of that great group of middle-of-the-road citizens who, being neither the underprivileged third or Bourbons of privilege, have been shoved to the wall during the clash between extremists.

It was a kind of emancipation proclamation by a distinguished American who was drafted for political service and is making no secret of his contempt for the kind of politicians who have given politics a bad name.

Standing alone, Gen. Eisenhower's rebuke to the pressure groups would have been a significant personal statement. But it has not been let stand alone. Gov. Stevenson has joined his political opponent in a declaration of independence.

The governor's rebuke to the arm-twisters
has been even more direct. He has rebuked the organized veterans minority by name. He has told the tidelands oil minority he will not knuckle down to it. It is rumored he has made it plain to the labor unions that they cannot own him, even though they may endorse him.
If this had been planned, the damage to pressure groups could not have been more severe.
Here is the familiar situation of the bully who terrorizes everybody until someone has enough courage to call his bluff. Every pressure group is by nature a bully, trying to force others to yield to its will. This sort of thing too long continued has made the American public yearn for the day when the bullies would be set back on their heels.

If Gen. Eisenhower and Gov. Stevenson can continue to make it plain they are not afraid of arm-twisters in their bids for the presidency, the election of 1952 would mark
the beginning of a new era in government.

The Oil Case

By PETER EDSON

May Disrupt Our Foreign Policy

The U. S. government's foreign policy and its international defense
policy face serious embarrassment
as a result of Federal Trade Commission and Department of Justice investigations into an alleged world oil cartel, or monopolistic agreement.

Center of focus in the case in the Middle East. This area now known as Iran, Iraq and Saudi Arabia today contains the world's largest proved oil reserves. It is also one of the world's most sensitive political spots.

This area is important to the United States because all the oil produced here to supply non-Communist Europe and Asia relieves
by that much the demand for petroleum products of the western hemisphere.

The two major European producers in this area are Anglo-Iranian Oil and Royal Dutch Shell.

Principal American companies in this area now include Standard Oil
of New Jersey, Socony-Vacuum, Arabian-American (which is jointly owned by Texas Company, Standard Oil of California and Standard of New Jersey), and Bah-rein Petroleum. These are the companies which are now on the FTC-Justice Department grill.

When the government of Iran
first seized the Anglo-Iranian properties with their world's largest refinery at Abadan, on the Persian Gulf, it completely disrupted the Old World's petroleum supplies.
The shortages could be made up only from the western hemisphere.

TO ACCOMPLISH this the Petroleum Administration for Defense,
operating under Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman, organized a voluntary agreement among all U. S. oil companies to work together.

The purpose of the voluntary agreement was to permit the oil companies to give the government
information on all oil stocks—
where they were and how much they amounted to, week by week.

Then, to supplement the voluntary agreement, what was known as "Plan of Action No. 1" was put into effect by PAD—the Petroleum Administration for Defense.
The Plan of Action permitted the oil companies to pool their resources, pool their tankers, exchange cargoes of oil and petroleum products and fill each others'
orders, all over the world.

Is Senate Continuous?

By RICHARD SPONG

One of the first tasks that would face Sen. Sparkman, if he becomes vice president, would be to rule on the question of whether the Senate is a continuing body.

Democratic "liberals" have indicated that they will try to change
Rule XXII—applying to cloture—
by denying the continuity of the Senate and hence the Senate rules.
The 1952 Democratic platform
urges "that action be taken at the beginning of the 83rd Congress to improve congressional procedures

so that majority rule prevails, and decisions can be made after reasonable debate without being blocked by a minority in either house."

The phraseology of this section is attributed to Sen. Sparkman who also couched the civil rights pledge in language acceptable to the South.

There is nothing new about the argument that the Senate is not a continuing body and so must adopt a new set of rules at each session.

In 1917, when a cloture rule was first adopted, Democratic Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana held that all bills before the Senate died at the close of each two-year session, and that the Senate cannot continue its own existence after sine die adjournment—except at the call of the President.

The case for the continuity of the Senate and of its rules was defended by the eminent jurist Elihu Root when he was a member of the upper house from New York.

Sen. Root in 1915 declared: "If you break or ignore the rules (of the Senate) and undertake to go on without them then you cast aside the only protection for the real performance of the duties of a representative body against the arbitrary will of a majority, which is reached by agreement made outside of the chamber."

He may also feel that since he's running for the presidency, he has an obligation to make his position clear and that's the only way he'd want to run.

Some of the people around Eisenhower have indicated that the general is pacing himself, that he aims to pick up steam as he goes along and have plenty of socko left for the windup.

There is a hazard in this strategy, too, of course. If Stevenson states his position on the main issues early and Eisenhower later comes along and takes a similar stand, the Democrats are a cinch to tag him with "me, too."

The fact that men in both camps
are discussing whether the candidates should lay it on the line on all the issues early is pretty good evidence they haven't laid much on the line yet.

About the most definite thing either of them has said so far was Stevenson's Detroit speech yesterday. He flatly suggested wiping out the Taft-Hartley Act and replacing it with a milder labor law.

This was the real campaign opener. Eisenhower gets under way today with speeches in the South.

One-half of the earth's atmosphere is compressed into levels lying within three and one-half miles of the earth's surface.

This was done to relieve the shortage caused by the loss of Iranian production. It made the American
"cartel" all the more effective.
But this again was done with Department of Justice approval,
though it was contrary to the antitrust laws.

It was stipulated, however, that this Plan of Action was to be limited only to the Iranian crisis. Last month it was decided this crisis was ended. Plan of Action No. 1 was therefore dissolved. The oil companies were turned loose to handle their world trade as full competitors under the free enterprise system and the usual restrictions of the anti-trust laws.

THE ORIGINAL voluntary agreement remains in effect, however.
Department of State, Department of Defense, Department of Interior
and its Petroleum Administration
all consider the voluntary agreement essential. It furnishes them with complete intelligence on world
oil stocks and movements.

It helps the Department of Defense plan its movements of military gas and oil to Korea and Europe. It is essential in planning to meet crises like the recent U.
S. oil industry strike. And it helps State Department in its touchy
Middle-Eastern diplomatic negotiations.

To keep consistent with its investigation, Department of Justice will move soon to compel PAD to break up its voluntary agreement with the oil companies.
And the U. S. foreign oil policy may thereby be thrown into a tail-spin.

There is a further angle to this complicated international oil cartel
case from the Department of Justice point of view. This concerns
a Marshall Plan, Economic Cooperation Administration claim of $50 million for alleged overcharges by the international oil companies.

ECA and MSA claim they were over-charged that much in furnishing $1.2 billion worth of petroleum products to European countries under the American aid programs over the last four years.
This claim is now being pressed by Department of Justice. The amount of claims for refund to the government may eventually grow
to $100 million.

McCarran Report

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Gerald Swope, chairman of the board of trustees of the Institute of Pacific Relations, has addressed
a letter to his members in which he states:

"I have read the (McCarran)
report myself, and I consider it to be extremely biased and unfair. By innuendo and by omission or distortion of evidence it conveys a thoroughly misleading and prejudiced account of the I. P. R.

Some of you may feel that there have been instances of inappropriate conduct or poor judgment on the part of I.P.R. officers or employees in the past and these actions may well
be open to legitimate criticism
after a fair examination of the attendant circumstances."

I have not only read the report of the McCarran committee's investigation into the Institute of Pacific Relations, but every word of the 14 volumes of testimony and all the documentary evidence attached to them.

I SHOULD HAVE imagined that Mr. Swope would have read all the evidence because the report leans over backwards in avoiding prejudice, whereas the evidence, in detail, provides damaging proof of the complicity of officers and employees of the Institute in the communist conspiracy.

It is the utmost irresponsibility
to speak of instances of "inappropriate conduct or poor judgment." Men are responsible for their conduct;
institutions are responsible for the men they employ. This cannot be ducked on the assumption that it is possible for the best of us, as for the worst, to make mistakes. We usually have to pay for our mistakes.

The McCarran committee report
had this to say on the Institute of Pacific Relations:

"The Institute of Pacific Relations has not maintained the character of an objective, scholarly,

and research organization.

"The IPR has been considered by the American Communist party and by Soviet officials as an instrument of communist policy, propaganda and military intelligence.
"The IPR disseminated and sought to popularize false information including information originating from Soviet and communist sources.

"A SMALL CORE of officials and staff members carried the main burden of IPR activities and directed its administration and policies.

"Members of the small core of officials and staff members who controlled IPR were either communist or pro-communist.

"There is no evidence that the large majority of its members supported the IPR for any reason except to advance the professed research and scholarly purposes
of the organization.

"Most members of the IPR, and most members of its board of trustees, were inactive and obviously without any influence over the policies of the organization and the conduct of its affairs.

"IPR activities were made possible largely through the financial support of American industrialists, corporations, and foundations, the majority of whom were not familiar with the inner workings of the organization.

"The effective leadership of the IPR often sought to deceive IPR contributors and supporters as to the true character and activities
of the organization.

"Neither the IPR nor any substantial body of those associated with it as executive officers, trustees or major financial contributors, has ever made any serious and objective investigation of the charges that the IPR was infiltrated by communists and was used for pro-communist and pro-Soviet purposes.

"THE NAMES of eminent individuals were by design used as a respectable and impressive screen for the activities of the IPR inner core, and as a defense when such activities came under scrutiny."

Every statement herewith quoted can be fully substantiated by the evidence in the 14 volumes of the McCarran committee hearings.
Mr. Swope does not refer to a single item in those hearings in this letter. He does not call attention to a single error. He does not specify a single injustice by the committee. He does not defend anyone accused by the committee.

His answer to the enormous work done by the McCarran committee is this:

"... I am glad to say that many
I.P.R. members and large corporations) among them the Standard Vacuum Oil company, the International General Electric company, the National City Bank, the Bankers Trust company, and the National Cash Register company) have in recent weeks shown their support by renewing their generous contributions."

The McCarran committee might
now inquire why an organization
that has "disseminated and sought to popularize false information including information originating from Soviet and communist, sources,"
should be tax-exempt or why contributions to it should be deductible as a charity. That might also be considered by the Cox committee.

Consolation

By TRUMAN TWILL

Like a goof—a two-headed, flop-eared goof—I have been trying to console a man about a dog.

The dog was a 14-year-old Irish setter. Age had taken its toll. The old boy was shaky in the back legs. He knew what he wanted to do, but his underpinning had been sluggish in responding these last few months.

Consequently, when he lay down
in the shade of his master's car,
and, unnotices, was unable to get out of the way when the car started up, no one could be blamed.
His crippling injuries were unavoidable, in the sense that no one could have prevented them in the circumstances.

Somewhat, sometime, somewhere
he would have been the victim of his debility. That was no comfort to the driver of the car, who was his own beloved master, but it was true.

It was no comfort to his beloved mistress. It was no comfort to anyone. His cruel mangling under the wheels of the vehicle in which he had so loved to ride
seemed to be an unmitigated tragedy at the moment.

Actually it wasn't. In the case of dogs, there is not only the hope
but the actuality of reincarnation.
There comes into being at the instant of each good dog's death his rejuvenated counterpart—the same trusting eyes, the same lolling tongue, the same perfect instincts, the same boundless capacity for un-questioning love.

Within a few hours after the tragedy, his master had obtained
a counterpart—a living memorial.
The newcomer, an Irish setter

pup, will grow into the same appearance of solemnity which is the mark of the breed. His eyes will be as mellow, his nose as keen,
his sense of humor as lively and his heart as big.

He will be called, of course, by the same name. He will have as his kennel companion the same friend who shared the last five years of his predecessor's life. The void created by death will be filled to overflowing with life. That is the blessing of reincarnation in the canine world.

Dog's best friends find out about this the hard way. But once they know it, they have learned something precious and basic about the current of life itself. It is a vast and endless stream of intermingled parts and counterparts. Here today and gone tomorrow is gone
today and here tomorrow, when this is understood.

Consolation is always a futile task. Wounds cannot be healed any faster than nature will let them heal. But in one special department of relations inside the animal kingdom—the way a human being feels about a faithful dog—there is a special kind of consolation—a bright-eyed pup
with a lolling tongue and a wig-wagging tail, to recreate on sight
all the love bestowed on some old timer whose legs have grown shaky and whose heart has grown feeble in selfless service to mankind.

Coffee Hours Pay Off

SOUTH BEND
This city's young Republican mayor has it all over the Arkansas politician running for the governorship who staged a 24-hour radio
"talkathon" to answer voters' question. John
A. Scott owes his electoral victory here to coffee—hundreds of cups of it.

In his "Operation Coffee Cup," Scott stag-ged and attended hundreds of coffee parties
held for groups of voters ranging from a handful to hundreds. This new technique of campaigning might well be emulated by others
running for public office.

A coffee-drinking habit developed with the Marine Corps during World War II swelled into a tidal wave of coffee that engulfed this city and swept the young former lieutenant colonel into office.

Mayor Scott unhesitatingly gives a good measure of credit to a series of neighborhood
"coffee hours" for the upset political victory
last November that established him as the first Republican mayor in 17 years in South Bend,
a predominantly industrial Democratic city.

Scott, a much-decorated Marine hero in the Pacific island fighting, and a personnel and public relations expert by profession, was on active duty as a lieutenant colonel with the public information branch of the Marine Corps
in Washington in the spring of 1951.

SCOTT'S PRETTY and vivacious wife,
Pat, was his spokesman during the primary campaign while Scott remained on official duty.
He won an overwhelming victory over four other Republican candidates and became the party's nominee, facing the incumbent Mayor
George A. Schock for election in the fall.

When Scott finally was released from active duty late in the summer of 1951, he realized that it was necessary for him to meet as many citizens as possible, find out their desires for city government and get their ideas
of what should be done.

There also was the need for becoming acquainted personally with as many of the voters as possible. Though well known in the community, having been selected as South Bend's Young Man of the Year in 1950, and having been prominently associated with many civil and community activities, there remained this obvious need for "getting acquainted."

RECALLING THE friendly atmosphere of relaxation that coffee provided in the military service, Scott hit on the idea of transferring this "coffee climate" to the civilian scene.

Right up to the November election date,
Scott attended "neighborhood coffee hours."
These were small informal gatherings, most of them sponsored by independent voters who were curious to meet this newcomer to the political scene and to hear his views on running the city government.

In many cases, the idea of the "neighborhood coffee hours" was received so enthusiastically that the ladies wanted to continue them among themselves, as a means of getting to know each other better and strengthening their ties of community friendship.

In the November election, the "coffee hours" paid off and on Jan. 1, 1952, Scott was sworn in as South Bend's first Republican mayor in 17 years.

ONE OF THE first fixtures installed in the new mayor's office was a coffee pot, an eight-cup automatic one that goes all day. In running the city's business, Mayor Scott finds that a friendly cup of coffee provides the proper atmosphere for relaxed discussions of civic affairs.

Most other City Hall departments have followed the mayor's example, ranging from a two-cup dripolator in one small office to a 20-gallon urn in the water department. From a practical efficiency standpoint, Mayor Scott says having coffee available for city employes in their offices cuts down on time spent for outside "coffee breaks" and also helps to build a spirit of cordiality and friendliness between employes.

After six months in office, Mayor Scott reciprocated for the many hostesses who had given the neighborhood coffee hours during the campaign by having a coffee hour for them
in the mayor's office, which had just been redecorated by Mrs. Scott and the mayor's secretary, Mrs. Ethel Mae Joris.

The ladies all turned out for the coffee
and snacks and were given a six-month progress report by the mayor.

DOWN WITH THOMAS JEFFERSON?

IS IT HONEST TO CONTINUE TO HONOR THE AUTHOR OF OUR DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE WHEN—

1. WE HAVE DISCARDED THE PRINCIPLES HE STOOD FOR?
2. WE HAVE PERVERTED THE FORM OF GOVERNMENT WHICH THOMAS JEFFERSON HELPED TO ESTABLISH?

JEFFERSON SAID THIS...

"He (King George III) has erected a multitude of new offices and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people and eat out their substance."

"Were we directed from Washington when to sow and when to reap we would soon want bread."

"If we can prevent the government from wasting the labors of the people under the pretense of caring for them, they will be happy."

"The policy of the American Government is to leave the citizens free, neither restraining them nor aiding them in their pursuits."

"Taxation follows public debt and in its train wretchedness and oppression."

WE HAVE PERMITTED OUR GOVERNMENT TO DO THIS...

OUR GOVERNMENT HAS ESTABLISHED 1875 BUREAUS AND SUB-BUREAUS! OUR GOVERNMENT HAS 2½ MILLION CIVILIAN EMPLOYEES WHO HAVE INCREASING CONTROL OVER THE LIVES OF THE PEOPLE. SALARIES OF CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES TAKE 8½ BILLION DOLLARS IN TAX MONEY EACH YEAR.

THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT NOW REGULATES THE AMERICAN FARMER'S ACREAGE AND THE MARKETING OF HIS CROPS

IN 1950, GOVERNMENT PLANNERS USED 23 BILLION DOLLARS OF THE PEOPLE'S TAX MONEY FOR SUBSIDIES, LOANS, GRANTS AND SPECIAL AIDS TO VARIOUS GROUPS. THUS, ABOUT ONE-HALF OF OUR TOTAL TAX BILL WENT FOR THE PURPOSE OF "CARING FOR THE PEOPLE."

BETWEEN 1934 AND 1950, THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT TOOK, IN TAXES, 15½ BILLION DOLLARS OF THE PEOPLE'S EARNINGS TO PROVIDE SUBSIDIES FOR CERTAIN BUSINESS MEN AND FARMERS.

IN 1951, THE FEDERAL PUBLIC DEBT WAS 260 BILLION DOLLARS—AN AMOUNT EQUAL TO ALMOST ½ OF ALL WEALTH IN AMERICA.

IF WE BELIEVE IN JEFFERSONIAN PRINCIPLES, WE MUST RESTRICT OUR GOVERNMENT TO—

Betty Rayniak, John Farcas Married In Baptist Church

The chapel of the First Baptist Church was the scene of the Sunday afternoon wedding of Betty Rayniak and John Farcas. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Louis Raymond in the presence of friends and relatives.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Rayniak of Prospect St., and Mr. Farcas is the son of Mrs. Mary Farcas of W. State St. Nuptial music was furnished by the church organist, Mrs. Robert Hammell.

Wearing an off-the-shoulder gown of shrimp-colored nylon net over satin, the bride carried a white prayer book topped by a white orchid. Mrs. James Cimmielli, serving as attendant, wore a dress of olive green nylon net and satin—styled like the bride's. Her outfit was complemented by a yellow rose wrist corsage.

Mr. Farcas chose Richard Mossey as his best man.

Mrs. Rayniak, mother of the bride, used dark brown accessories with a medium brown nylon faille dress. The groom's mother wore a green suit with black accessories, and both women wore gardenia corsages.

Following the marriage ceremony, a family dinner party was held at The Corner. Highlighting the table was the wedding cake decorated with a miniature bride and groom. White candles and a bouquet of white roses and carnations also beautified the setting.

Her husband, who also graduated from Salem High, attended Ohio State University, Miami University and Kent State University. He is now associated with the Silver Manufacturing Co.

Chili Buns Spiced With Mayonnaise

Current food fashion decrees that sandwich bread be spread from corner to corner with salad dressing or mayonnaise. In these chili buns, mayonnaise contributes its piquant flavor to make for a delightful lunchtime special. The snappy "chili" influence is from Meclao, but these buns cater to American partiality for sweet smoked bacon and melty cheese topping.

CHILI BUNS

8 slices cooked bacon, chopped
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1/2 cup chili sauce
1/4 cup pickle relish
1/2 teaspoon chili powder
6 round buns
Mayonnaise
6 slices pasteurized process Swiss cheese
Combine the bacon, onion, chili

sauce, pickle relish and chili powder.

Split the buns and spread all halves with mayonnaise. Spread the bottom halves of the buns with the bacon filling and top each with a slice of cheese. Place all the bun halves under low broiler heat until the cheese is melted and the top halves of the buns are brown. Put the buns together, making 6 sandwiches, and serve hot.

Woman From Belgium Realizes Lifetime Dream To Visit U. S.

"A dream of a lifetime come true" is the way Mrs. John Paul (Marie) Soupert of Brussels, Belgium, describes her trip to visit friends and relatives in the United States.

Adding to the pleasure of the trip was her Atlantic ocean crossing on the new liner, U.S.S. United States, which was on the return trip of its maiden voyage.

Mrs. Soupert, who is visiting in Salem with girlhood friends from the village of Parau, Romania, was happy to see Mrs. Andrew Chitsea of Wilson St., Mrs. Ironil Butum of the Damascus Rd. and Mrs. John Oana of S. Ellsworth Ave. The Salem women are sisters.

The dream for Mrs. Soupert, a nurse and wife of a chemical engineer in Brussels, will last from July 15 to Sept. 19. She also has visited her brothers, Alex Pirvu of Canton and John Pirvu of Detroit.

American people have impressed Mrs. Soupert with their friendliness. She leaves with the determination that some day she will come back and bring her husband. She has traveled a lot with her husband on business but of all the trips, this one is the best, she declared.

She describes Brussels as a beautiful city where they wash the streets once a week. Door steps too are washed.

Most of the homes there are set on the sidewalk but have gardens at the back. The more wealthy people have beautiful front lawns and gardens too, she said.

Belgium made a fast comeback after the war, she said, and the country is now run by a "Catholic" party. Socialist, Liberalist and Communists make up the other parties. The country is predominantly Catholic as to religion but not because of the government. There are a few Protestants too.

The state, to encourage large families pays so much to the family for each child. Children go to school until they are 18 or 19 and politics plays some part in the education program. The system is so well organized that mothers leave their children there and go to work, knowing they will be well cared for.

She told about the famous Brussels lace which is so expensive that the edging for a handkerchief is as much as $3. Visitors seek out the town of Bruges which is famous for its art work of all kinds.

A building boom has hit Belgium since the war even though there was little destruction at that time. Twelve stories are considered a tall building there but others are being built. They have most of the comforts we enjoy in the United States but the living standard of the working classes is much lower, she said.

There is only one super market in Brussels, Mrs. Soupert said, but almost every family has a servant for part-time at least. Houses are not all centrally heated but telephones, electricity and "milk in bottles" are common conveniences.

Due to the large population per available land, most of the food is imported and the work of the people is industrial. Besides liberty of religion and the press, the people have organized unions to iron out labor difficulties, she said.

Though just three hours from Paris, Mrs. Soupert says she just goes there to sightsee since the shops of Brussels are good. The people ride bicycles but there are imported autos. They enjoy movies from America and Paris.

Being a nurse, she was interested in the hospitals here and was given a tour to see if there was much difference. She has a rating of a registered nurse but now the nurses are approved by the government, she said. She speaks Italian, French and German, besides Romanian.

Kiwanians Plan Council Session

Clippers To Play In Three-Game Preview

COLUMBIANA — A divisional council meeting for the 13 clubs of the 15th Ohio division of Kiwanis will be held in the Presbyterian Church, Columbiana, Wednesday evening, Sept. 17.

All the clubs in the division, embracing the area from Salem, Columbiana and East Palestine to Bellaire, are to be represented. Russell J. Barrow of Columbiana is lieutenant governor of the division. The Columbiana club met Monday at Heck's. W. G. Gloss, new principal of Columbiana High School, is a new member. Kiwanis signs that have been missing from points where state highways enter Columbiana are being cleaned and repainted.

The Rotary Club had no meeting Monday, but will observe ladies' night next Monday evening. John Fitzpatrick is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

The Columbiana Clippers will have McDonald as their opponent in a three-game preview of the 1952-53 football season at McDonald next Saturday evening. The first game, between Leetonia and Lowellville, is scheduled for 8 o'clock under the lights in the new stadium at McDonald. Columbiana and McDonald are scheduled for 8:45, and North Lima and New Springfield will follow. McDonald chose Columbiana for the dedication game in the new stadium. Congressman Mike Kirwan will speak.

INCREASING interest in its free chest X-rays has moved the Columbiana County Public Health League to have its mobile X-ray unit spend two days, instead of one as in the past, at the Columbiana street fair and home coming the last three days of this week. The unit will be stationed on S. Main St., near the Trader Clinic, Friday and Saturday and will give free examinations from 2 to 4 and 6 to 10 p. m. each day.

The Columbiana Business and Professional Women's Club has assigned assistants for each of the four periods scheduled by the unit. Miss Estella Esterly and Mrs. Lulu Miller will assist Friday afternoon; Ruth Derringer and Kathryn Fuhrman, Friday evening; Florence Guy and Vera Frayzier, Saturday afternoon, and Mrs. Furney and Dorothy Diamond, Saturday evening.

Walter Hartsock of the Franklin Furniture Co., is playing by invitation in the seventh annual Bill Waite championship golf tournament at Delaware, Pa., this week.

COLUMBIANA schools began the school year today with a forenoon session only, when pupils were enrolled and received lesson assignments. Full day sessions will begin Wednesday.

The cafeteria will begin service tomorrow, with Mrs. Louella Snyder as manager. She will have as assistants Mrs. Carolyn Dotson, home economics teacher, Mrs. Josephine Cope and Mrs. Mildred Lippley. The price of lunches will remain 25 cents a plate. Tickets will be sold in each home room Wednesday, and thereafter on Monday mornings for the week.

Mrs. John Gilchrist will speak on her trip to Alaska, pictures of which will be shown, at the meeting of the Towasi Class in Westminster hall of the Presbyterian Church at 8 p. m. Wednesday. Mrs. Florence Campbell will be in charge of the program, and Mrs. Effie Irons will conduct devotions. Hostesses will be Mrs. Roxie Moser, Mrs. Vida Wenderoth and Mrs. Agnes Nolan.

The Methodist pastors' school is in session this week through Friday at Ohio Wesleyan, Delaware, and the laymen's evangelistic institute will follow through Sunday.

Members of the Gay Sisters' 4-H Club will have a booth at both the Columbiana street fair and homecoming this week and the Columbiana county fair at Lisbon next week to display their clothing and nutrition projects of the past year. Final arrangements were made at a meeting of both the senior and junior groups Thursday evening, at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Reash, Duquesne St., Ext., one of their advisers. Mrs. Arthur Hickman, another advisor, was also present.

Rev. W. S. Longworth of the Methodist Church is attending at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, this week, a Methodist pastors' school, which will conclude Friday. Lay leader Ralph Reddington will attend at the same place the laymen's evangelistic institute, which will begin Friday and continue through Sunday.

Officials of the F. C. Russell Co., and representatives of Local 3790, United Steel Workers, CIO, will meet again at 3 p. m. tomorrow in the Eagles' Lodge quarters at Lisbon in an effort to reach an agreement that will end the strike which has made the company's No. 2 plant here and some 250 employees idle since August 15. The plant employs more than 300, but about 50 supervisory employees remain on duty.

Roving Reports By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (U)—This is a day of tension in the American home.

The long Labor Day week-end has given husbands a taste for leisure, and they found it hard to put their noses back to the same old grindstone in the same old salt mine. They come home from their first day back on the job cross and quarrelsome and saying things like:

"What am I—a man or a horse?"
"What can a wife do to ease the pain of papa's return to the harness of his daily task? It does no good for her to point out that she has been slaving over a hot stove herself. He requires sympathy—not a competition in self-pity."

He also needs to be assured he is a lucky dog to have a job, and work is really wonderful. Since he may have some strong doubts on this point—particularly if the point is made by a woman—I have gleaned a few historic male remarks to bolster his wife's argument.

So, dear lady, clip these from your newspaper and put them on your husband's dinner plate tonight to make him feel better:

"There is no greater cause of melancholy than idleness; no better cure than business,"—Robert Burton.

"Idleness is only the refuge of weak minds, and the holiday of fools. I look upon idleness as a form of suicide,"—Lord Chesterfield (who was born wealthy).

"No one has become immortal by sloth,"—Sallust.

"Sloth is the devil's pillow,"—Unknown.

"To do nothing is to be nothing,"—Nathaniel Howe.

"He who would eat the kernel must crack the shell,"—Plautus.

"It is not the part of a man to fear sweat,"—Seneca.

"If any would not work, neither should he eat... in all labor there is profit,"—Old Testament.

"For all there is one season of rest and one of toil... labor conquers everything,"—Vergil.

"Who prays and works lifts up to God his heart with his hands,"—St. Bernard.

"Labor, wide as the earth, has its summit in Heaven,"—Thomas Carlyle.

"The sleep of a laboring man is sweet,"—Old Testament.

"Labor is itself a pleasure,"—Manilius.

"No man needs sympathy because he has to work... far and away the best prize that life offers is the chance to work hard at work worth doing,"—Theodore Roosevelt.

"Why seekest thou rest, since thou art born to labor?"—Thomas A. Kempis.

"... If the Almighty had ever made a set of men that should do all the eating and none of the work. He would have made them with mouths only and no hands,"—Abraham Lincoln.

"When a great many people are unable to find work, unemployment results,"—Calvin Coolidge, Republican.

"Honor lies in honest toil,"—Grover Cleveland, Democrat.

"I go on working for the same reason that a hen goes on laying eggs,"—H. L. Menchen.

"Work bears witness who does well,"—John Ray.

"Never is there either work without reward, nor reward without work being expended,"—Livy.

"It's all in the day's work, as the huntsman said when the lion ate him,"—Charles Kingsley.

"There is no trade or employment but the young man following it may become a hero,"—Walt Whitman.

"There is no substitute for hard work... as a cure for worrying, work is better than whiskey,"—Thomas A. Edison.

"Work is the inevitable condition of human life, the true source of human welfare,"—Tolstoy.

"Any man who has a job has a chance,"—Elbert Hubbard.

"But till we are built like angels—with hammer and chisel and pen, we will work for ourself and a woman, for ever and ever. Amen,"—Rudyard Kipling.

Indians File 5-Point Protest After Defeat

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians said today they were filing a five-point protest with the American League over the weather-jumbled second game of Monday's doubleheader with St. Louis.

They blamed the Browns' field equipment, the St. Louis ground crew, the umpires and the St. Louis prexy, Bill Veeck, for their troubles. After Cleveland had won the first game, 9-3, they were behind, 2-1, in the nightcap when the rains came. The game was delayed an hour and 12 minutes after the Indians had batted in the fifth. That was enough to make it an official game.

After play was resumed, the fifth inning was finished and the Indians scored three times in the top of the sixth to go ahead 4-2. But the rain started again. Even though the shower let up, the field was in such poor condition the game was called after 29 minutes. The score reverted to the fifth inning and the Browns won, 2-1. The loss dropped the Tribe another half game behind first place New York, making the gap 2½ games.

Manager Al Lopez said these were the basis of the protest: 1—"The failure of the Browns to provide proper equipment." He said the field cover leaked and the ground crew took 43 minutes to take it up.

2—"Failure of the ground crew to obey the umpires." They were told to put the canvas on the second time it rained and they said they couldn't even make the attempt.

3—"Failure of the umpires to order the ground crew 'to make an attempt to get the infield in shape after the rain stopped.'"

4—"The umpires called the game 'too quickly.'" Lopez said, "The second rain lasted only six minutes and it did not rain after that. In an important game such as this the umpires could have waited until midnight."

5—"The actions of Bill Veeck (in) yelling down from the press box to his ground crew as the canvas was being put on the field. 'Take your time, take your time.'"

Jim Duffy, umpire in chief, said that the game was stopped the second time he asked the ground crew, "Aren't you going to cover the field?"

He was told, "We can't. It's impossible."

Duffy said he planned to submit a report on the leaky and waterlogged condition of the canvas.

Aerial views above give a remarkable graphic example of how UN air forces are blasting Communist installations in Korea. Photo at left shows the 165-acre Red supply center at Anak, before night-flying B-29 Superforts dropped 400 bombs on it. View at right is the "after" picture. Note how road junction in center has been wiped out and how complex of buildings at upper right is completely obliterated. About 385 supply buildings were destroyed and at least another 50 damaged. Many secondary explosions indicated that fuel and ammunition stockpiles were blown up. All UN bombers returned safely to their Okinawa base.

preliminary report.

The Detroit case involves an indictment returned early in 1944 charging Norman E. Miller, an industrial engineer and designer, with defrauding the government of $14,000 in charges for work on government contracts.

After numerous delays, during which Miller changed lawyers several times, the case finally was dropped in October, 1950. The government lost four of its key witnesses during the six-year hiatus.

1953 Miss America Contest Opens

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Today is facts and figures day for 52 lovelies longing to don the mantle of Miss America.

Contestants for the nation's best-known beauty title spent the day registering, reading over the rules and weighing their chances.

Many of the girls were held up overnight by high winds and heavy rains from an off-coast hurricane but by mid-morning most were adorning pageant headquarters at the Haddon Hall Hotel.

Wednesday they'll be on display in a gala Boardwalk parade, a preliminary to the start of actual competition.

From then on until the grand climax Saturday night when Colleen Kay Hutchins, Miss America 1952, crowns the new queen, the girls will be on a merry-go-round. They'll show they can do more than look pretty by singing or dancing or displaying some other talent and then compete for points in an evening gown and bathing suit.

This year's pretties are from 45 states, four big cities, Chicago, New York, Philadelphia and Washington plus Puerto Rico, Hawaii and Canada.

Admits Killing Girl With Lug Wrench

FOND DU LAC, Wis. (AP)—A 24-year-old machinist has admitted the fatal beating of an attractive telephone operator two weeks ago, police said.

William Gardner said in a signed statement that he had used an automobile lug wrench to batter the head of Agnes Jaeger, 24, in the pre-dawn of Aug. 16. Gardner, arrested the same day, pleaded innocent to a first degree murder charge.

In his statement made public Monday by Sheriff Arnold Sook, he said, "I will no longer claim I was not responsible for her death. I caused it." But the statement added: "This wasn't first degree murder and I can prove it at my trial."

The statement gave no motive for the slaying. Gardner had told authorities earlier he had picked up Miss Jaeger and a girl companion at a tavern and said he had given them a ride home. The companion did not know of Miss Jaeger's death until morning.

Dr. George S. Long, Pineville dentist and brother of former Gov. Earl Long and the late Sen. Huey P. Long and uncle of Sen. Russell Long, faces Mayor Carl Close of Alexandria in the 8th Congressional District.

In the 7th District, voters decide between T. A. Thompson of Ville Platte, 36, former state budget officer, and John W. Clark, Eunice lumberman.

Dr. Long, 68, who is also a lawyer and makes a patent medicine as a sideline, is making his third race for the post now held by Rep. A. Leonard Allen, 61.

Allen, who defeated Long twice, decided not to seek re-election after serving 16 years in the House.

Two Persons Injured In 2 Traffic Mishaps

John Bailey, 40, of RD 1, Beloit was admitted to the Salem City Hospital Monday night following a traffic mishap which occurred at the intersection of the Western Reserve Rd. and Route 534. He sustained a possible chest injury and lacerations of the head and was reported in fair condition today.

Mrs. Albert Anderson, 27, of Toledo was slightly injured at about 12:30 a.m. today in a traffic mishap which occurred on Route 170. She was admitted to the Salem City Hospital and is scheduled to be discharged sometime today.

Complete details on the two traffic mishaps are lacking as the State Highway Patrol did not investigate either.

"Shots" For Hay Fever Relief

The most regular type of allergy is fall hay fever. Millions of sufferers from this annoying condition can tell within a day or two when their trouble will begin.

The reason for this is that the pollens which they are sensitive to—usually members of the ragweed family—mature and enter the air at about the same time each year, depending upon the localities.

Dr. Jordan The running or stuffed-up nose, itching and watering eyes, and the sneezing fits of the hay fever victims make for a miserable time.

Some people are so seriously affected that they cannot sleep. They lose weight, become irritable and exhausted and feel of little use to themselves or to anyone else during the four or five weeks of "the season."

Many victims of hay fever have obtained great relief by taking injections of "shots" of pollen before the season starts. The purpose of these injections is to reduce the sensitiveness to the pollen.

Some people cannot take large enough doses to do much good. Others, for reasons which are not yet entirely understood, fail to respond very well. Many, however, obtain some relief from injections and a few get over their symptoms entirely.

Once the season has started, these preventive injections are not of much help. Many who can get away try to seek areas where there is less pollen, but others have to stay where they are and grin and bear it.

Air conditioned public buildings often bring some relief. Some people who can afford it feel better if they stay in a room with an air filter in the window.

Several drugs known as antihistamines and going under various trade names bring considerable relief to many hay fever sufferers. These drugs act for only a short time, but they do help many hay fever victims when their symptoms are intolerable.

They are not lacking entirely in undesirable effects, however, and therefore should not be taken without some medical supervision. Furthermore, some people seem to be helped more by one kind of preparation and some by another.

Huey Long's Brother Runs For Congress

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Another member of Louisiana's Long dynasty seeks election to Congress to lead in one of the state's two Democratic runoff primaries.

Dr. George S. Long, Pineville dentist and brother of former Gov. Earl Long and the late Sen. Huey P. Long and uncle of Sen. Russell Long, faces Mayor Carl Close of Alexandria in the 8th Congressional District.

In the 7th District, voters decide between T. A. Thompson of Ville Platte, 36, former state budget officer, and John W. Clark, Eunice lumberman.

Dr. Long, 68, who is also a lawyer and makes a patent medicine as a sideline, is making his third race for the post now held by Rep. A. Leonard Allen, 61.

Allen, who defeated Long twice, decided not to seek re-election after serving 16 years in the House.

Two Persons Injured In 2 Traffic Mishaps

John Bailey, 40, of RD 1, Beloit was admitted to the Salem City Hospital Monday night following a traffic mishap which occurred at the intersection of the Western Reserve Rd. and Route 534. He sustained a possible chest injury and lacerations of the head and was reported in fair condition today.

Mrs. Albert Anderson, 27, of Toledo was slightly injured at about 12:30 a.m. today in a traffic mishap which occurred on Route 170. She was admitted to the Salem City Hospital and is scheduled to be discharged sometime today.

Complete details on the two traffic mishaps are lacking as the State Highway Patrol did not investigate either.

27 Ohioans Die During Holiday

Traffic Mishaps Take 18 Lives; 1 Drains

By The Associated Press

Twenty-seven persons died accidentally in Ohio over the Labor Day week end, considerably fewer than the 40 predicted before the holiday began last Friday.

Traffic accidents took 18 lives, one less than the number for the Labor Day week end last year.

One person drowned and eight persons died from miscellaneous causes. Two children were killed when firearms discharged accidentally. One baby suffocated in his bed. Two men were killed by trains. Car racing and motorcycle racing accidents claimed two lives and a young man was killed when he was thrown from a horse.

The totals are based on accidents occurring between 6 p. m. Friday and last midnight.

Nine deaths most recently reported were: Anton Shager, 78, of Youngstown, fatally injured when hit by a car Saturday.

Frank E. McCray, 35, of Youngstown, died Monday of injuries received Sunday when his car crashed into a steel pole at Youngstown.

Howard W. Clowe, 7-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Clowe, of Columbus, suffocated in a bed at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Craven Clowe, in Carroll.

Richard Leach, 19, of Fairborn, died of injuries received Sunday in a two-car collision near Fairborn.

Merle Vanover, 25, of Plain City, drowned Sunday in Big Darby Creek in Madison County. He had been swimming.

Francis Grabski, 20, of Cleveland, fatally injured Sunday when he was thrown from a horse in suburban Parma Heights.

Roger Egri, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Egri of Lima, fatally injured Sunday when he was run over by a car in the exit of a Lima drive-in theater.

James F. Martin, 22, of Newark, killed Monday when his automobile hit a tree along Ohio 29 near Sidney.

Robert Kirk, 21, of Newport, Ky., killed as 4,000 spectators watched at Xenia fairgrounds when his motorcycle crashed into another in novice-class race.

Four Salem Scouts Advanced In Rank

At a recent Salem Boy Scout Board of Review meeting, four scouts received advancements.

Robert McCarty and Steve Wald of Troop 3 were advanced to second class scouts; Life Scout Richard Heston of Troop 5 received merit badges in hiking, life saving and swimming; and Life Scout Frank Heston of Troop 5 received a merit badge in citizenship in the community.

REELECTED BLIND OFFICIAL YOUNGSTOWN, O. (AP)—Clyde E. Ross of Akron is the reelected president of the Ohio Council of the Blind. Others elected Monday include Harry Stiller, Canton, first vice president.

MINISTER'S RITES SET WESTERVILLE, O. (AP)—Funeral services will be held here today for the Rev. Curtis J. Poulton, retired United Brethren minister who died Saturday in a Columbus hospital. He was a pastor at Mount Vernon, Newark and Minerva before he retired 10 years ago.

SAVES DROWNING SON CLEVELAND (AP)—John Petrich, a non-swimmer, dove into deep water and saved his 5-year-old son from drowning Monday in Lake Erie. After he had pushed the youngster to safety, another man rescued the 34-year-old father.

Four Men Saw Way Out Of Ohio Jail

ATHENS, O. (AP)—Four prisoners sawed their way out of the Athens County jail early today.

Sheriff George Bateman said the jail break took place sometime between 1 a. m., EST, and 7:30 a. m. when other prisoners in the cell-block notified him of the escape.

There were 28 prisoners in the cell-block, but only the four got out the window after cutting the bars with a hacksaw, authorities reported.

The sheriff sent out a state-wide alarm. Two of the men who fled were being held here in connection with a burglary, after having escaped from Mansfield Reformatory Aug. 3. They were captured recently.

The two were Zeke Holbert, 22, of Zanesville, and Ray Slaughter, 24, of Cleveland.

The other two prisoners who escaped were Ray Taylor, 40, of Broadwell, Athens County, charged with grand larceny, and Jesse Jennings, 24, of Glouster, Athens County, recently of Norwalk, charged with breaking and entering.

The sheriff said Jennings also had a record of being an escapee from Mansfield.

Sheriff Bateman said he had confiscated a number of hack-saw blades after making an inspection of the cellblocks on Aug. 24. He did not know in what manner the four men were able to get additional blades, or how long the work of sawing the bars had been under way.

Market Starts Slow On New Month

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made a slow start on the new month today, but prices were higher.

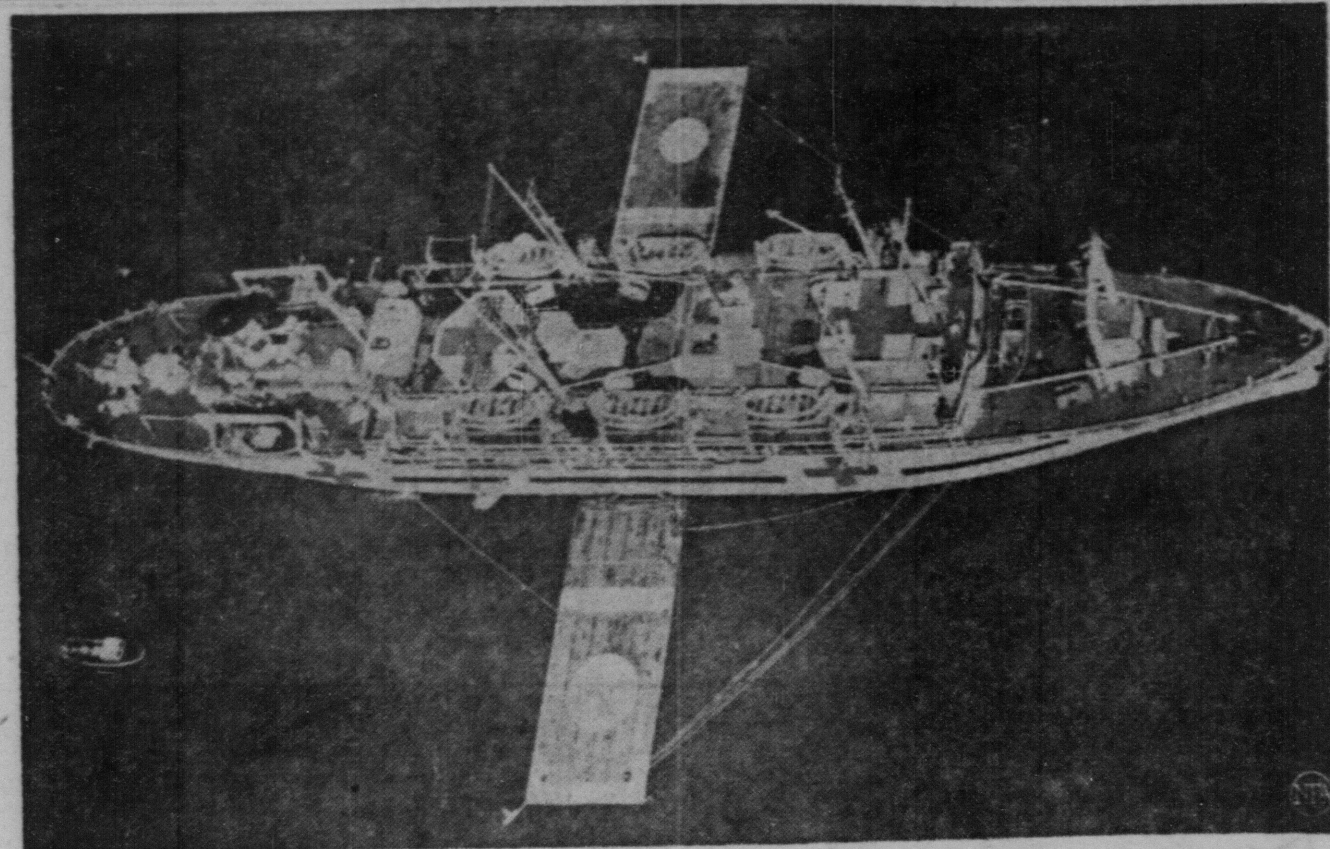

Gains ran from fractions to between 1 and 2 points with only a handful of issues getting past a point. Losses were scattered and mild.

Volume was restricted to a rate of less than a million shares for the entire day. Last Friday the total was 890,000 shares.

Railroad did well along with steels, motors, coppers, and chemicals. Radio-Television issues made limited progress.

Among higher stocks were Republic Steel, Union Pacific, United Gas Corp., Studebaker, American Smelting, Allied Chemical, Emerson Radio, and Vanadium.

Lower were Homestake Mining, Dome Mines, Westinghouse Electric, and Lockheed.

FLOATING "LANDING FIELDS"—Part of the record-breaking job being done in Korea in bringing casualties safely to hospitalization is due to such ingenious devices as the floating platforms seen moored to the hospital ship U. Labor Shortage Foreseen For Ohio Atomic Plant District

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Labor Department expects Scioto, Pike and Ross Counties in Southern Ohio to develop a labor shortage next spring when hiring for construction of a huge new atomic energy commission plant in that area should "get into full swing."

Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin has announced removal of this area from the list of those entitled to special treatment in placing of government contracts because they have surplus labor.

Tobin said the employment outlook for the Portsmouth labor market area has "abruptly changed" with the decision by AEC to build its $1,200,000,000 U-235 plant in Pike County.

The removal of this Southern Ohio area from the surplus labor list resulted from a manpower survey of the area by the department's Bureau of Employment Security.

In a detailed report on that survey, the bureau traced the area's economic difficulties since the depression.

"Problems associated with prosperity will come as a pleasant relief to Portsmouth, whose economy has never recovered from severe blows sustained during the 1930's," the report said.

"The depression, although nationwide in scope, had a particularly severe effect in Portsmouth."

The bureau said the construction peak at the new A-plant probably will be reached two years from this month. The AEC has said it expects some 30,000 workers to be on the job during this stage of the four-year task.

Stevenson

ulation, the governor's subject was foreign relations.

He took issue in Hamtramck with Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's recent speech in which the Republican candidate came out for a warning to the Soviet Union.

The Pontiac speech—if he had given it—would have dealt with labor and management. And the Flint speech was a general discussion of Republicans versus Democrats; that is, his version of their separate policies and what the Democrats have done in the past 20 years.

At the end of the long, wearing day, Stevenson told correspondents it was "all good."

He said he was satisfied with the size of the crowds, their responsiveness and the comments of the people who accompanied him. On most of the air-and-automobile trip, Walter Reuther, president of the CIO United Auto Workers, Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Sen. Blair Moody of Michigan were with him.

"I'm very well satisfied," Stevenson said. "People up there seemed pleased with what we did."

Police estimated the Cadillac Square crowd yesterday at about 15,000. Correspondents said Truman drew nearly 50,000 people four years ago. Grand Rapids police gauged the crowd there at 10,000 although the figure looked high to newsmen. They said the President attracted double that many in 1948.

Wilson Wyatt, campaign manager for Stevenson, said he thought television might be the explanation for the smaller crowds.

Correspondents who covered the Truman trip four years ago and the same ground yesterday were struck by the contrast.

Stevenson's speeches were highly literary in quality. But standing in the crowd, you detected a certain note of uncertainty among the listeners.

They seemed puzzled when he referred to Eisenhower as "my very distinguished opponent," and said, "My opponent is an honorable man." At Hamtramck, the governor charitably remarked of Eisenhower and apparently of John Foster Dulles: "I hope that recent statements by him and his advisors have been misunderstood."

In short, he did not serve up the straight all-black-and-all-white descriptions that American listeners have come to expect from political candidates.

Storms Lash East, South

At Least Five Killed By High Winds, Rain

By The Associated Press

Severe wind and rain storms lashed wide areas of the Eastern and Southern areas over Labor Day causing millions of dollars damage to property, including several B36 bombers at Carswell Air Force Base in Ft. Worth, Tex.

At least five persons were killed in the storms.

Winds of 90 mile an hour velocity struck near the Carswell base, destroying one three-million-dollar B36 bomber, causing major damage to six others and lesser damage to several others. Several buildings suffered "severe damage."

One woman, a civilian, was killed by the storm in Ft. Worth. In Michigan two persons were killed by lightning as thunderstorms struck the state and two others were reported missing and presumed drowned in Saginaw Bay after their boat capsized.

Damage estimated at $500,000 resulted from a flash flood which struck the small town of Ellicott City, outside Baltimore. The town's main street was littered with broken store fronts, wrecked automobiles and water-logged merchandise as Tiber Creek raged through the business and residential sections. Several persons were forced to flee from their homes.

integrity in the nation's capital."

In his bid for Southern support, the Republican nominee said some Democratic spokesmen were "counting the votes of the South ahead of time along with the cemetery tombstones and the vacant lots that they carry in the election rolls in some of the cities they run up North."

Referring to Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois the Democratic presidential nominee, Eisenhower said:

"Even my distinguished opponent admits that his party has produced a mess in Washington."

(Stevenson told an Aug. 20 news conference that crime, corruption and misconduct are "messy" wherever they are, and they must be eradicated. He also said the convictions for wrongdoing showed there had been a mess in Washington. "I intend to deal with corruption ruthlessly," he declared. "I always have.")

Eisenhower said in his text today that President Truman has announced that the Democratic candidate "must run on one issue—the record of the administration."

"On both these points I am in hearty agreement with the opposition," Eisenhower said, meaning the "mess" and the administration record.

Eisenhower said he was not predicting the outcome of the election Nov. 4, but he pledged that, whatever his future status, he would not rest until "the peddlers of privilege and the destroyers of decency are banished from the nation's house."

In assailing the administration in his speech here, the general promised to unleash still more artillery—and soon. He said:

"Today and tomorrow, here in the Southland, I shall intensify my attack against corruption in government; against the heedless policies that nullify our thrift and erase our savings by inflation; against federal deficits and the failure to live within our means; against waste of resources and our money; against arbitrary usurpation and seizure of power; against disloyalty in the federal service; against the whole tangled aggregation of incompetence and expediency and bossdom."

ident on the concourse of the Union Terminal.

Such importance was attached to a 12:45 p. m. (EST) appearance at Parkersburg that Truman planned to speak from a prepared address. Talks at Clarksburg, 2:45 p. m.; Grafton, 3:35 p. m.; Keyser, 6 p. m., and Martinsburg 8 p. m. were to follow.

Reports out of Springfield, Ill., that the Illinois governor would outline his views on the Taft-Hartley Act without consultation with Truman came as a surprise to the President's researchers.

They said they saw in advance rough copies of early drafts of Stevenson's Detroit speech yesterday and that Stevenson's staff was filled in on what Truman said at Milwaukee.

Wilson Wyatt, Stevenson's campaign manager, had told reporters Sunday: "We have had no contact with the White House about the speeches. We haven't seen the President's speech. There has been no effort to co-ordinate what will be said."

Truman in a whistle stop talk at Crestline, O., yesterday promised "good times for everybody" if balls are pulled down, and the food Stevenson is elected and disclosed is forced down the throat.
